Snake Band of 300 Armed Indians Preparing To Resist.

UCHEES BREAKING OUT

Choctaws Are Up in Arms, and a General Uprising is Now Feared.

SITUATION GROWING SERIOUS

Mukogee I. T., Jan. 26.—United States troops are in camp at Henrietta, I. T., and the Snake band of 300 armed Indians is assembled at Bush Hill where they are holding a meeting. The United States troops will be among the Indians tomorrow and a fight between the cavalry and the redskins seems imminent.

May Be General Uprising.
The Uchees are breaking out at Bristow and the Choctaws are up in arms in another part of the country. It is feared that the 200 Choctaws in revolt will induce others to join them and that they in turn will join the Creeks and Uchees in a general uprising. A few of the Seminoles are becoming disaffected as well as a few of the fullblood Cherokees.

Notice Posted in Bristow.
The mayor of Bristow reports that there are about 300 full-blood Creeks assembled near there and that they threatened to burn the town under summary orders issued by Latah Micco, principal chief of the rebel government.

INDIAN SCARE INCREASING.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 26.—The Indian scare along the eastern border shows no signs of diminishing. Matters seemed to have quieted down in the morning, but at noon the following telegram was received by the governor:

"Situation along our border serious. I cannot be responsible for the safety of our people unless militia is ordered out at once.

William Tighman, Sheriff."

At 1 o'clock the governor held a consultation over the telephone with

Col. Hoffman and Sheriff Tighman at Chandler and they stated that many depredations were being committed over the line in the Creek reservation, both by the Indians and by outlaws, and that up to that time nobody had crossed the line and there was no positive evidence of any intention to cross or to commit any overt acts on this side of the line. The governor advised that a close watch be kept along the line and advice sent him of any overt act against citizens or property in Oklahoma, but that until there was some attempt to cross the line or commit some such act he did not feel that he would be justified in ordering the national guards to the scene.

Many Write Are Issued.
Muskogee, I. T., Jan. 26.—Marshal Bennett stated that while the situation is still alarming he thinks it is now in hand. United States Judge Joseph A. Gill has ordered Commissioner Thomas A. Sanson to proceed with Marshal Bennett and deputies and join the troops now at Henrietta and try to light horsemen on a charge of treason and commit them to jail. Over fifty writs have been issued for the arrest of light horsemen and leaders. Attorney General Griggs has instructed Marshal Bennett to render all assistance possible to towns and people, and placed $1,000 at his disposal at once. Marshal Bennett will take twenty deputies and will leave overland for the scene of trouble. The Snake band had a council at Hickorytown, which is still in session. Outside towns are armed, prepared for any emergency tonight. Several towns in the Creek nation have pickets out. Marshal Bennett has captured the 17-year-old son of Chief Snake and has notified the latter that the boy would be held as a hostage until the Indians surrendered. The Indians have so far refused to surrender and today held two councils, one near Bristow and one at Rush Hill, I. T.

NIKOLA TESLA HAS INVENTED NEW SYSTEM OF ELECTRIC LIGHTING

Each Lamp a Little Sun—Light Soft and Absolutely Steady and So Diffuse That It Tends To Deceive the Eye.

New York, Jan. 26.—Nikola Tesla has perfected his new system of electric lighting and hopes to have it soon introduced into general use. Under a full head of electricity the new lamp has the color of ice in the sun. The light is soft and absolutely steady. So diffuse is it that it deceives the eye and at first seems without much power of illumination.

This is the light—the "perfect sanitary light" as Tesla calls it—which he has been seeking for ten years. There are neither wires nor carbon filaments to break or burn out. The lamp may be described as a nest of glass tubes bent in irregular form.

Each lamp has about twenty feet of white flag tubes. Into this square coil of hollow glass of the diameter of a finger electricity is sent quivering from Tesla's oscillator. Bursting into light it floods the apartments with the clear light of day. It is daylight—not the splendor of the sun, but the light of the sun as on a cloudy day, when one forgets that the sun is shining.

Tesla's oscillator, which he believes is the key for solving the electrical problems of the day, causes electrical vibrations of inconceivable speed. These vibrations turn the atoms of the gases in the tubes, as it were, into little comets which shoot rapidly through the enclosed space leaving trains of light behind.

This sudden starting and stopping of the current produces continuous light, not of the incandescent or arc light character, but purely solar. In other words each lamp is a little sun.

Official Announcement of Queen Wilhelmina's Purpose Is Made at The Hague Town Hall.

The Hague, Jan. 26.—An official of the Ministry of Justice at 11 o'clock this morning delivered at the town hall a formal deed, signed by Queen Wilhelmina and Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, declaring their desire to be united in matrimony. Flags were immediately hoisted on the town hall, all churches, and other buildings. The royal bans will be read for the first time on Sunday Jan. 27.

TIME RIPE FOR A CHANGE.

Philippine Commission Favors Civil Government.

Manila, Jan. 26.—The Philippine situation is rapidly improving. The work of the civil commission meets with popular favor, but the present power vested in the commission is inadequate. The immediate establishment of civil government is urgently demanded. The passage of the Spooner bill is greatly desired by American business men. Thousands of natives are petitioning congress to take action this session. The commission thinks the time is ripe for civil government.

Federal Party Files Petition.

Manila, Jan. 26.—The executive committee of the federal party has filed a petition requesting the Philippine commission to urge upon President McKinley that the passage of the Spooner bill by congress is an urgent necessity, as the progress of the archipelago demands an authority which can legislate and control the incorporation of concerns, regulate mining claims, dispose of public lands and perform other functions not vested in either the military or legislative authorities.

New Bridge for Bosphorus.

A new bridge is about to be built across the Bosphorus, bearing the name of the Sultan, Abdul Hamid. It will be constructed of granite and metal by the Bosphorus Railway company, which designs a junction between the railways of Europe and the trans-Asiatic railway, of Bagdad, now being built by the Germans. The narrowest dividing line of sea has been chosen for the point of connection. A military bridge erected by a Corinthian long before the Christian era once spanned these 600 yards of water at the same spot, and over it in 513 B. C., marched King Darius and his 800,000 Persian braves during his campaign against the Scythians. Lord Byron, impatient of bridges, as of many things, swam the flood. The new bridge is to be erected on lasting lines. Massive granite pillars are to be built, and these will support the steel cables on which the bridge stands.

VERDI, THE COMPOSER, IS DEAD

Produced Many Operas That Have Been Heard the World Over.

Rome, Jan. 26.—A special dispatch to the Patria announces that Verdi, the composer, is dead. Giuseppe Verdi, the composer, was born Oct. 9, 1813, in the duchy of Parma. He resided in Milan. In 1839 he published his earliest work, a musical drama entitled "Oberto di San Bonifazio." Some of his best known operas are "Louisa Miller," "Rigoletto," "Il Trovatore," "La Traviata" and "Aida," which have been successfully produced in Italy, Germany, France, England and America. Among his later works are "Requiem Mass," "Montezuma," an opera in five acts; "Otello" and "Falstaff," the last an opera that was received with great enthusiasm when produced in Milan in 1893. Verdi was a member of the Legion of Honor and various other European orders. He was created an Italian senator by King Victor Emmanuel in 1874, and in 1880 he received the Order of the Crown of Italy, all by virtue of his abilities as a great composer.

BIG FIRE LOSS IN CHICAGO.

Over $350,000 Damage in Wholesale and Retail China House.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 26.—Pitkin & Brooks' wholesale and retail china store at State and Lake streets was almost wholly destroyed by fire. The fire was discovered shortly after midnight and from then until early in the morning firemen had a hard fight to prevent the flames from spreading to adjoining buildings. The loss will run between $300,000 and $400,000. The chief loss suffered was on the stock. Thousands of art treasures, in fine china, pottery, and glassware, were broken and smashed by the streams of water poured into the building. The stock loss was said by one of the members of the firm to amount to $300,000. The building, while not totally destroyed, will probably have to be torn down. It was valued at about $100,000.

BAD MIX-UP WITH ST. RAILWAY CARS

Farmer Named Churchill Living Near Leyden, Gets His Rig Considerably Tangled Up.

A farmer named Churchill, residing near Leyden, got into a bad mix-up with the railroad cars on North River street last night about nine o'clock.

Churchill left his horse tied on Wall street and started for home about 9 o'clock. The horses were not sharp shod and he was afraid to try to turn around on the slippery road, so drove down to River street and turned north intending to go around the block. As usual the tracks of the railroad companies were filled with cars making it a difficult passage. In going between them the wheels of the wagon caught the flange of the rails and slewed it against the cars holding it fast. When the wagon struck the horses, being smooth shod, slipped and fell, one of them going under one of the cars and it was only after much hard work that it was extricated.

The harness was badly damaged and was cut considerably. When the accident occurred Churchill telephoned the railroad company and a number of men were sent to help get the horses out of trouble.

Meaning of True Friendship.

By friendship you mean the greatest love, the greatest usefulness, and the most perfect trust, and the most open communication, and the noblest sufferings, and the sincerest truth, and the heartiest counsel, and the greatest union of minds of which brave men and women are capable.—Jeremy Taylor.

APPLETON IN PANIC OVER SMALL POX

Dr. Rodermund is Kept a Close Prisoner—A Wholesale Business Done in Vaccination.

Appleton, Wis., January. 26.—Three new cases of small pox reported this afternoon in the villages of Clifton and Sherwood, situated about five miles from Appleton, have greatly augmented the general alarm caused by the frightful exposures made by Dr. M. J. Rodermund two days ago, in an effort to substantiate his theory that contagion does not exist.

The excitement continues unabated and nearly every physician in the city has been doing a wholesale business in vaccination, it being feared for a time that the supply of virus points would be exhausted.

Dr. Rodermund has been kept closely confined to his house all day, the number of guards surrounding the residence being largely increased this morning, as it was feared that he would make an effort to escape. The president of the Wisconsin state board of health is here today and it has been decided to institute proceedings against Dr. Rodermund as soon as he is released from quarantine.

HEAD OF HOUSE OF ROTHSCHILD DEAD

Chief of the World's Most Powerful of Money Kings.

BILLIONS IN COFFERS

Great Wealth, the Foundation to Which Was Laid Two Centuries Ago.

LENDERS TO MANY NATIONS

London, Jan. 26.—Baron Wilhelm Rothschild, head of the great family of European bankers and successor in the line of descent from the original Rothschild of the Judengasse, died at Frankfurt today.

The baron was the real head of the house although of late years the London Rothschilds have been more conspicuous in the great enterprises of the world because London is the world's money market.

Orthodox at All Times.

The dead millionaire, unlike his relatives in the other European cities was a most devout Jew. He lived up to the custom of the orthodox Judaism most rigidly. His food was all prepared to the kosher rites, and when he traveled he carried with him special cooks and utensils in quantity to prepare his diet in strict accordance with his religious beliefs. His wine was sanctified in the vat and made from grapes grown on his own estate.

Family's Vast Wealth.

The entire wealth of the Rothschilds has been estimated at about $2,000,000,000, but this is probably an inadequate measure of their possessions, which exist in almost every conceivable form of property. This tremendous wealth and the vast power that it confers upon its possessors make the very name of the family an Aladdinlike talisman in the courts of the great nations of Europe. Almost all of the big powers of Europe are in the debt of the Rothschilds, and have been in their debt for many years.

Founder of the House.

The name of the first Rothschild was simply Anselm. A son was born to him in 1743, who was called Meyer Anselm to distinguish him from his father. Meyer succeeded to the business in the house at 52 Judengasse, and was called Rothschild because of a red shield which decorated the front of the house. The title adhered and the new curio dealer became known as Meyer Anselm von Rothschild.

A prisoner who had been discharged by the judge at Pine Bluff, Ark., was ungrateful enough to take the judge's umbrella with him when he left.

INTENSE HEAT NOW IN AUSTRALIA

The High Temperature Combined with Fierce Brush Fires Causes Great Loss of Life.

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 26.—Steamer advices say that the destruction by bush fires in Australia has been appalling. While many people are dropping dead from heat apoplexy, the thermometer running up to 115 degrees and 20 degrees in the shade hundreds upon hundreds of families have been burned out, some of the country residences destroyed being costly structures.

Many marvelous rescues were made. One man in a farmer's wagon drove 160 persons from the fire circle and sure death three miles to a river, where they all remained immersed with their mouths and noses only above the water until the terrific holocaust had passed over them. Scores of miles of grain have been destroyed and great droves of cattle and sheep. The Sydney Telegraph's correspondent at New Hebrides expresses the fear to his paper that the French will leave the English from New Hebrides. They are condoning the murder of the Englishman, Captain Cass, by the natives.

A terrible hurricane has spread death and destruction in New Britain. The force of the waves after the wind subsided was terrific. At Herbert Shore, the white settlement, the whole town was demolished. One hundred and forty-eight boats, large and small were smashed to kindling wood. All the wharves were wrecked. The death list among the natives was large.

RENOMINATION OF GEN. BOARDMAN POLITICAL SURPRISE OF THE WEEK

Appointment is Recognized as a Deserved Tribute to Ability—News and Gossip from the Legislature at Madison.

Madison, Jan. 26.—The political surprise of the week was the appointment by Gov. La Follette of Charles R. Boardman of Oshkosh to succeed himself as adjutant general of the state. General Boardman was a protégé of the late Senator Sawyer and consequently was identified with the anti-La Follette wing of the republican party, and there was little expectation that he would be retained.

General George E. Bryant, chairman of the republican state central committee, would have liked to have had his place and Gov. La Follette would probably have given it to him had he not recognized the fact that the general is too far advanced in years and too feeble in health for the active work which the position at the head of the purpose thereof, or continuance of the same, at the suit of private persons injured. It provides that no person shall be excused from testifying on the ground that the testimony given might incriminate him, but the person so testifying shall not be prosecuted for any offense concerning which he may testify. The bill provides that when it shall appear on trial of any action that any defendant doing a commercial or transportation business has refused to sell or ship merchandise to any person at established rates, or has exacted terms tending to discriminate against the purchaser, such refusal shall be prima facie evidence of an attempt to control trade and commerce. Officers and agents are made personally liable for violations of the law.

The bill provides that it shall not be necessary to prove all of the members of the trust or produce any written instrument upon which it may be founded, but that the character and purpose of such a trust or combination may be proved by its general reputation.

Prohibits Sale of Cigarettes.
The only bill of general importance which has passed either house this week is the Overbeck anti-cigarette bill which absolutely prohibits the sale of cigarettes, cigarette paper or any substitute therefor in the state. It went through the assembly under suspension of the rules with only two votes in opposition, and the author of the bill expresses confidence that it will become a law next week. There are others, however, who predict that the cigarette people who did not put in an appearance for a hearing before the assembly committee, will be on hand when the bill is considered in the senate, and that it will have a more rocky road in the upper house.

State Railway Commission.
Assembly A. R. Hall's bill creating a state railway commission, with power to control all rates, is less radical in some of its parts than his former bills of the same kind which he has introduced at each recent session. Mr. Hall thinks that there is a good chance of getting the present bill enacted into law, and is preparing for a hard fight for it before the committees. It is said that the bill will have the support of the Milwaukee chamber of commerce which recently made a vigorous protest through Railroad Commissioner Rice against alleged discrimination in grain rates in favor of Chicago, and also of several dairy associations which claim that it costs more to put Wisconsin dairy products into Chicago than it does to send them from Chicago to New York.

Against Insurance Trusts.
Senator Green's bill to prohibit combinations of fire insurance companies or their agents for the purpose of fixing rates and commissions, is likely to bring out a strong opposition lobby from the Milwaukee board of fire underwriters and other similar organizations in the state, who will be deprived of their main excuse for existence if it becomes a law. It will, however, be strongly opposed by large insurers, and it is also probable that it will have some support from the nonboard companies which are now writing risks independently of the boards of the fire underwriters.

THOMAS JEFFERSON, AS "RIP VAN WINKLE".

No more praise could be given to appeared since his first starring tour Thomas Jefferson who appears in Rip Van Winkle at the Myers Grand on Monday evening, than he has received here as an able exponent of Rip, that by the large houses wherever he has love, and the elder ones remember as one of the most beautiful poetic pastimes on the American stage. A company of able players will aid Thomas Jefferson during his stay in this city.

The famous London and New York Casino success, "The Belle of New York," will be on view at the Myers Grand on Feb. 26. The company which will present the Belle of New York in this city is the same that played it originally and the same that gave the piece 697 performances in London at the Shaftesbury theatre. In all they played the Belle of New York nearly 3,000 times in America, England, Australia and South Africa. An actress new to the American audiences is Miss Beniah Dodge, a dainty, winsome little woman who plays the pretty salvation army lassie.

Don't fail to see cremation when it comes to the Myers Grand. Cremation is Herrman the Great's latest sensation, which has created more comment than any other illusion ever presented in this city. A beautiful young woman is burned alive before your very eyes, "cremated," as it were, hence the title Cremation.

The well known and popular actor, Mr. Daniel Sully, surrounded by a capable company, will pay us a visit on January 31, in an entirely new role in which he has been appearing with great success in New York and Boston.

ARETAUGHT BREATHING

The First Step Toward Good Speaking and Singing—A Sample Exercise.

A singing exercise in the sixth grade of one of the ward schools yesterday afforded a good opportunity for observing what is being done in the line of musical instruction. The children ranged in age from ten to twelve years. Each was provided with a singing book and they applied themselves to the business at hand with as little self consciousness as if learning a spelling lesson.

The pitch was given and they sang the syllables of an unfamiliar song without trouble. Next they sang with one syllable like "do" or "la" and finally the printed text. A purely vocal exercise followed, showing how they are trained to use their vocal apparatus. They were able to hold the notes for an extended period with a full, round, sweet tone.

In a two-part song that was sung one side took the soprano and the other the alto, changing from one to the other with perfect ease. It was certainly a very creditable exercise. Prof. Gaskins, in his instruction, lays great stress on correct breathing as one of the fundamental principles of correct singing. This not only develops the singing and the speaking voice but is a most potent factor in building up the general health.

Voice culture, in the wide spread attention it is receiving in the schools throughout the country, will undoubtedly raise the general standard of health among the pupils. It is also bound to produce a better grade of speaking voice. It is hoped it will ultimately make inapplicable the just, if unpleasant criticism among Europeans that Americans, and especially American women, may be known in any assembly by their harsh, high pitched nasal tones.

Eruptions

Dry, moist, scaly tetter, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions proceed from humors, either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous.

The thing to do is to help the system discharge the humors, and to strengthen it against their return.

Hood's Sarsaparilla permanently cured J. G. Hines, Franks, Ill., of eczema, from which he had suffered for some time; and Miss Alvina Wolter, Box 212, Algona, Wis., of pimples on her face and back and chafed skin on her body, by which she had been greatly troubled. There are more testimonials in favor of this great medicine than can be published.

TO CURE THE GRIP.

Advice of a Famous Physician.

First and foremost, rest.

Take care of yourself. Your already weakened nerves want rest, and must have it. If the attack is severe go to bed and remain there. More fatalities result from neglect of this precaution than from any other cause.

Eat sparingly. Your digestive organs are in no condition to take care of the large quantities of food.

Drink plenty of pure cold water.

It attacks the fever, stimulates the kidneys to action and opens up the pores of the skin. Keep the bowels open with Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills.

Take three doses of Dr. Miles' Nerve per day, and if you cannot sleep take an extra dose at bed time. To overcome the fever and to overcome the peculiar aches and pains of the grip, use Dr. Miles' Pain Pills. They act quickly and effectually, and no bad effects result from their use. These remedies have been thoroughly tested more than a million times, and their efficiency is thoroughly established. They never fail to give relief.

How a Woman Suffers.

HOWELL, IND., Nov. 28

I will always praise Wine of Cardui. It has done me more good than all the medicines I have ever taken in my life. Please send a book about female diseases to the ladies whose names I enclose.

Mrs. MINNIE STODGHILL.

Wine of Cardui

It isn't necessary for a woman to give particulars. When she says she has "female troubles", other women know what that means. It means days and nights of endless suffering. It means headaches which no tongue can describe. It means that terrible bearing and dragging down in the lower abdomen. It means agonizing backache, and shoulder ache, and arm ache, and aches in the lower limbs. It means nerves on edge—the blues—despondency and loss of hope. It means debilitating drains that the doctors call leucorrhoea. It means martyrdom—sometimes even death seems preferable. And still Wine of Cardui will utterly put those diseases and pains to rout. It has cured thousands of cases when nothing else on earth would. To the budding woman, to the bride, to the wife, to the expectant mother, to those going through the Change of Life, this Vegetable Wine is a blessing.

HE DIDN'T KNOW HIMSELF.

In a little country grave yard in western New York is said to be a marble slab, dedicated to the memory of Eben Holden, a leading character in a popular novel recently written. The epitaph of this quaint character contains among other homely but striking sentiments, this line:

"Never cheated anybody but Eben Holden."

The old man had lived to a ripe age, professing nothing in the way of goodness, but possessing a warm and generous heart, devoting his life to the happiness and welfare of others, and when he came down to the valley that divides the seen from the unseen, and looked into the face of death, he couldn't think of anybody he had ever cheated but himself.

People who have read the story and admired the sturdy character will be at a loss to discover where the old man cheated himself out of very much that was worth having.

The statement, however, suggests a great truth that is too frequently overlooked, and that is that humanity generally is better acquainted with other people than with its individual self, and that it is wonderfully easy to cheat ourselves unconsciously. "Know thyself," is one of the old maxims, and yet as trite today as when it was first written. How many of us really know ourselves?

The girl goes out into life with a smattering of music and superficial knowledge, possessed of the notion that she knows it all because favorable surroundings that have caused her to look down upon her less fortunate sisters. Her heart is narrow and shriveled by selfishness, and when she assumes the responsibilities of life in the home, she is totally unfit for the burdens and cares.

A few years later she chafes and worries under restraint, and develops into womanhood lacking all the finer traits of the wife and mother. The husband discovers in the girl he thought he knew, the woman of society, thoroughly engrossed with its demands, and the wife discovers that she did not know herself or she would not have sacrificed her life to the care of a home. Estrangement follows, and in too many cases divorce severs the tie.

The young man just out of school knows a great deal more than his father. He sympathizes with the old man in his slow going, plodding methods and pities him for being twenty-five years behind the times. Society needs readjusting, politics is corrupt, and reformation is demanded; the church is old-fogy and its doctrines moss backed and full of all sorts of theories he goes out into life expecting to startle the world with his wisdom and up-to-date ability.

He enters upon a business career and soon discovers that theories are all right in the school room, but all off in the practical university. That the laws of trade are so well established that the theorist is regarded with suspicion.

If he possesses good common sense he will come to himself in time to save disaster. If not, he will continue to theorize until he becomes a cipher, both in influence and commercial standing.

The reformers, both in politics and theology, belong to the class who know it all, much better than they know themselves. One lands outside of his party, and the other outside the church. They are not seriously missed by either, and as a rule, personal egotism prevents their realizing personal loss. The man without a party, like the man without a church, is an orphan.

Some one has said that every man has a price, and that under favorable conditions or strong temptation the commercial value of character is determined.

That may seem like a cold blooded way to state it and yet it is true that thousands of men and women are out of state prisons, and free from the shadow of crime, because their lives have been safely envionred, and they have never been subjected to the strain that snaps so easily the cords of integrity and virtue.

Circumstances have much to do with the surface strength of character. A young man from a rural Christian home, with reputation for purity and honesty, enters upon a new and untried life in the great city. He has to any strain that he feels equal. He possesses ability to come to him, and that is soon recognized by the commands for him never question a model of honor and integrity. But he has not been careful in the associates and unconsciously he drifts out into a social life that demands more money than his income, and then a voice within him that he never heard before, says: "Here's money, you can borrow it and pay it back before anybody will know it."

And so the first peculiar temptation comes to him at a point where he didn't know himself. If he yields, as too many young men have, he is gone and frequently beyond recall. His downfall was due to a lack of knowledge of his own weakness.

The strength of a chain is determined by its weakest link, and this is just as true of character. The link may never be discovered, because circumstances may prevent the testing. The weak links are difficult to discover when dormant, and it is fortunate for humanity that the testing time never comes to many lives, because of goodly environments.

Self knowledge and self reliance are traits of character that will bear careful cultivation. Add to them a knowledge of God, and faith in his ability to strengthen every good purpose, and character develops to a point where it is impregnable, under every strain. "Know thyself," have faith in God, and in the years to come memory will suggest Uncle Eben's epitaph, "Never cheated anybody but Eben Holden."

SUBLIME EGOTISM.

The Chicago Tribune, the best all-around newspaper in the West, has just declared a policy that would be disappointing to its friends, and that will weaken its political influence.

The Tribune is recognized as a republican newspaper, though not always reliable, yet in the main supporting the party on state and national issues. In city and county affairs, however, it has been independent, and has frequently handicapped the party on that account.

A day or two ago the paper said editorially that it intended to pursue a non-partisan policy on all local issues, and would support the best men presented regardless of party. In other words it puts its own judgment against the wisdom of the party, and says practically, "We know it all and you don't know anything."

It is undoubtedly true that when the ideal day of city government is reached, that party lines will be obliterated, and the contest will be between the law loving and law abiding citizens, and all other classes, but until that day comes the best government will be secured by strict adherence to party lines.

While the present conditions exist the Tribune or no other single paper in a given locality is strong enough to effect a revolution.

Harper's Weekly posed for many years as the leader of the independent movement in New York. It aimed high and with George William Curtis behind it, made a valiant fight for reform.

But it failed and for the simple reason that it was dictatorial, destitute of an organized party and playing over the heads of the masses.

The Tribune is making the same mistake. It may have the sympathy and support of the civic federation and the silk stocking element, but they are not the winners in the game of American politics.

When a paper gets too virtuous for its party, and cuts loose, it speedily loses political influence. The city of Chicago has a good republican organization and plenty of good men in its ranks. The Tribune would find it just as easy to be loyal and support a good man in the party, as to mount a pedestal found on sublime egotism and say to the party, "Vote for the men we select or go hang."

Chicago is not destitute of loyal republican papers that will support the party on all issues so long as party lines are closely drawn. The Inter Ocean and Journal are both staunch in the faith and will profit by the erratic course that the Tribune has marked out for itself.

The passing of populism has been accelerated by the election of two republican senators to take the place of Baker of Kansas, and Pettigrew of South Dakota.

King Edward VII., the conservative, experienced and level headed man of England as that of Edward I., or the Black Prince.

Wisconsin continues to furnish good senatorial timber for other states. South Dakota, Nebraska and Gamble of this state were born and educated in this state.

Some of our senators believe in the Philippines if no force is necessary. This is like floating a flag with no flag staff.

Ex-Gov. Waite is likely to lose his title of "Bloody Bridges" now that Teddy is on the war path in his native state.

America's industrial supremacy is proved. Germany is buying sauerkraut by the ton in the United States for her troops in China.

The man who takes up the old charge against Gen. Logan, displays his ignorance of American history, with glaring headlines.

Anarchy reigns throughout the Armenian quarters of Turkey, and the powers have given up protesting. Why is this disgusting, festering sore allowed to disfigure the face of civilization?

The educational question which puzzles the Philippine commission is Godless schools or ecclesiastic domination.

Queen Victoria's death has cast a cloud over England and a shadow over American firesides.

Emperor William has distributed several eagles, but not of the variety popular at West Point.

A Minnesota town was startled by a Clapp of thunder from a clear sky Saturday.

Mrs. Nation's mind seems to be anything but weak.

The sovereigns of Europe are trying to make collections of Old China.

Mrs. Nation's intemperance has its faults also.

Reciprocity treaties are vastly more important than the purchase of two insignificant islands.

Princess Henry's Compositions.

It is now some years since Princess Henry of Battenberg has published any of her musical compositions. She has written many songs, and not a few have achieved popularity. Princess Henry has lately finished an elaborate baptismal hymn, which is likely to be heard at many Royal services.

Most Heavily Insured Woman.

Mrs. Florence Pullman Lowden, daughter of the late George M. Pullman, is the most heavily insured woman in the world. She has just taken out policies which aggregate $250,000. Her husband, Colonel Frank O. Lowden, has been "written" for a similar amount, so that the total of all their policies amounts to half a million. Colonel and Mrs. Lowden left for the Pacific coast recently, with Mrs. Pullman and Mrs. F. J. Carlson. Before their departure policies representing $500,000 life insurance were turned over to them.

Pretty

Is an adjective which seems to have become monopolized by the young lady at the typewriter. It is astonishing what an array of beautiful women are found in stores and offices.

In fact, the typical American beauty will be found sitting at the typewriter rather than loitering in a carriage in the park.

And yet this pretty young girl needs always to be reminded that "beauty is only skin deep," unless it roots in health. When the health is undermined by womanly diseases, the luster soon passes from the eyes, the cheeks grow thin, the body loses its plumpness.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures diseases which weaken women and which destroy their strength and beauty. It establishes regularity, stops weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"Several years ago I suffered severely from female weakness, prolapsus and incontinence, and used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription with splendid effect," writes Fannie E. Brown of Washington, Iowa. "Glad I have needed it for a few years past, but if I should ever have any return of the old trouble I would surely try 'Favorite Prescription.' I have recommended it to a number of my lady friends. I always tell them to try it, and if they are not benefited by it I will pay for the medicine. In every case they have spoken in praise of it."

SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

They Originated in Milan, Italy, Under Cardinal Borromeo.

Sunday schools originated in Milan, Italy, under the direction of Cardinal Borromeo, in 1580. By his aid and influence numerous schools for the dissemination of theological information of a rudimentary character were established. About the middle of the next century Rev. Joseph Alleine inaugurated Sunday schools in London, and between 1760 and 1763 a number of Sunday schools were started in various parts of England and Scotland by Rev. David Blair and Rev. Theophilus Lindsey. Robert Raikes of Gloucester lent valuable aid in establishing Sunday schools in the vicinity of his home, where he was the publisher of the Gloucester Journal. In 1731 he paid rent for suitable rooms and halls, and in them installed poor women as instructors, to whom he paid a shilling a day each for teaching poor children a fundamental knowledge of Christianity. His efforts had great influence; other philanthropists followed his example, and soon Sunday schools began to spring up in most of the larger towns of England. The first Sunday school in America was started in Hanover county, Virginia, in 1736, under the leadership of Bishop Asbury. New York Weekly.

BADGER COAL CO.,

INCANDESCENT HOUSE LIGHTING.

A few of its advantages are, the ease with which it can be turned on or off by means of switches even from points distant from the lights. No heat nor dirt is given off and the light readily lends itself to artistic arrangements and decorations. In the decoration of a home it is of the greatest importance to consider the kind of light we are to use. If you use a heat and soot producer for illuminating, the paper and housefurnishings should be selected accordingly, for light paper, carpets or upholstery will be practically ruined in a short time and lace curtains will be often a dingy grey than a fresh white. Any open flame is a bad thing to have in a human habitation. It is consuming air and that is what we primarily exist upon. As the saying is, "It makes the air bad." Those who breathe it make them sleepy. Malaria is often blamed for this "tired feeling."

Another advantage is the facility with which it can be installed to produce a better diffusion of light.

The old idea of a group of lights in the center of a room has become obsolete. The aim of progressive architects is to so distribute the lights around the room that there will be no shadows cast.

We will always be pleased to consult with prospective leader users about the best arrangement of lights and to give estimates for installing.

Outside connections are made and meters set without expense to customers.

GOLF CLUB MAKES READY FOR SEASON

COMMITTEE IN CHARGE NAMED BY THE DIRECTORS.

Will Give a Masquerade at Assembly Hall on February 19 and Smoker at the Club House on Thursday Evening January 31—Effort Made to Engage Robert Foulis.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Mississippi Golf club was held yesterday afternoon at J. P. Baker's drug store. Most of the directors were present and considerable business connected with the running of the club for the coming season was transacted.

The applications of Rollin C. Lewis and M. F. McCaughey for membership were acted upon and the applicants admitted as members of the club.

A green committee composed of F. E. Fife, John G. Rexford and Orion Sutherland were elected for the ensuing year.

C. L. Fife, M. O. Mount, Edward Peterson, Mrs. H. G. Carter, Mrs. W. A. Jackson and Miss Agnes Shumway were elected as the house committee.

Albert Schaller, F. E. Fife and C. E. Pierce will have charge of all handicaps, games and events that take place on the grounds during the ensuing year.

It was decided to give a masquerade at Assembly hall on the night of Feb. 19th. A committee composed of J. P. Baker, Mark Bostwick, Ross King and H. M. Pulkner were appointed to take charge of it.

The secretary was instructed to correspond with Mr. Robert Foulis, the professional that spent a month on the links last summer and engage him if possible for two months with the privilege of three at a figure not to exceed what was paid last year. If Mr. Foulis comes here this season it is thought that he will be here by the middle of May and take charge of the work on the grounds and give the members of the club a chance to take lessons early in the season so they will get the benefit of the instruction in their summer's play. It will be the aim of the club this year to have a team that will be equal to any in the state.

The annual smoker of the club will be given at the club house on Thursday evening, Jan. 31, and a committee composed of J. P. Baker, Mark Bostwick, George M. McKee, Albert Schaller, H. H. McKinney, F. H. Jackson, F. S. Sheldon and Colin C. MacLean were appointed to take charge of the matter and see the members. A dollar will be collected from all members who attend to pay the expenses and provide refreshments. The club smoker is one of the events of the year and no doubt will be patronized by all of the members.

F. E. Fife and J. P. Baker were appointed to engage the help to work the grounds during the coming summer.

MRS. JESSIE MYERS LISTENS TO ADVICE

Did Not Take the Goods From Her ex-Husband's Room Out of the City.

Mrs. Jessie A. Myers succeeded in getting possession of the most of the furniture, carpets and fixtures of the rooms formerly occupied by herself and Peter L. Myers before their separation. She had the goods carted away and would have shipped them out of town had not M. O. Mount of the firm of Fethers, Jeffris & Mount appeared on the scene and gave her a little advice as to what would result if she tried to carry off the goods.

She claimed they belonged to her and that she had paid for them with her own money. It never occurred to her that she was no more to Mr. Myers since the divorce had been granted than was any other woman and that entering a person's home without authority of law and carrying off goods, might have a different look to a judge who would be called upon to pass upon the case.

She had a number of stormy scenes with the people interested in the matter, but finally decided that she would leave the goods at Kimball's until Mr. Jeffris return from Chicago. She was favored in her operations by the fact that Mr. Myers was at Hudson, Wis., and his attorney, Mr. Jeffris, was in Chicago. She kept very quiet after she reached the city and had almost succeeded in getting all of the goods ready for shipment before Mr. Myers' attorney were aware of what was going on.

Seeing that nothing more could be done she left last evening on the 7:15 train for Chicago to await developments.

In the Circuit Court.

Arguments for a new trial in the case of Chase vs. The Blodgett Milling Company, were made in the circuit court this morning. The judge took the matter under advisement.

In the case of Mary Fillingham vs. John Nichols, the judge ordered a verdict for the defendant in accordance with the judgment of the supreme court. The motion to set aside the verdict and grant a new trial in the case of Cornelius Hayes vs. the Town of Janesville was overruled.

A divorce was granted Benedict W. Rogers from Addie G. Rogers.

IMMENSE AUDIENCE AT ASSEMBLY HALL

Burns' Anniversary Observed by Enthusiastic Admirers—Features of the Program

Several hundred people, sympathetic and enthusiastic, assembled last evening to do honor to the memory of Robert Burns and to delight themselves with a pleasing program and a few hours dancing. A large framed portrait of Scotland's lyric poet hung over the platform draped with flags and different kinds of tartan. An arch from the gallery to the side wall was also draped with tartan and green vines.

The program opened with a medley of Scotch airs which was one of the most agreeable numbers. Alex. Galbraith, the president of the Caledonian society presided and welcomed the audience in an appropriate manner.

J. H. Rodger of Chicago sang a Scotch ballad and was warmly received and recalled. Mr. Rodger has a good baritone voice with an unusual range and was encored each time he appeared. Scotch songs call for a vigor in the rendition which no one destitute of the physical could furnish.

Miss Kate Campbell does dialect capably and in the suitable Scotch twelve threuean owsd Breevth of selection, "Pittin' in the Cries," she displayed her skill to advantage. In response to an encore she gave Ingersoll's tribute to Burns, which is considered the finest acknowledgment of Burns' genius ever written. Later Miss Campbell in a serious selection, "The Funeral of General Wauchope," held her audience by her tragic force and earnestness. Her voice is deep and strong and in the fury of denunciation or in a wail of sorrow she expresses the sentiment in her tones.

Miss Belle Rolston was heard in a number of dainty vocal selections and was most acceptable in each. Her reception in her former home was all that could be desired, and a beautiful bunch of roses given at her first appearance testified to the favor of at least one admiring friend. Her voice is peculiarly sweet and bird like and her singing is entirely devoid of affectation.

Senator J. M. Whitehead gave the address of the evening on Robert Burns, paying a graceful and merited tribute to his work as a man and his high rank as a song writer. He possessed the universality of sympathy which is the hall mark of the great poet.

Prof. D. D. Mayne was scheduled for stereopticon views of Scotland, but owing to some difficulty with a fuse the electrical current was turned off and this pleasing number was necessarily omitted.

The last number was Auld Lang Syne by the company and at its close the floor was cleared of chairs and dancing occupied the time till early this morning.

The society is to be congratulated for having furnished the public with such an enjoyable evening as well as having given a loving and appreciative thought to one who was as a brother to all mankind.

He was born in Pike county, Pa., November 10, 1851, and had been a resident of this county for a number of years. He resided for some time on a farm near Lake Koshkonong, which he sold about three years ago, and moved to this city. During his residence in the country and city he made a large number of warm friends who will mourn his death. He leaves surviving him a wife, formerly Miss Emma Bingham, a daughter of the late Ezra Bingham, of Koshkonong, and five children, three daughters, Maud M., Mabel, and Adah; and two sons, Wm. R. and Leroy E. Williams; also, two brothers, Frank of Council Bluffs, and L. A. Williams of this city; and three sisters, Mrs. Canzar, Mrs. Turner and Jessie E. Williams.

RECEPTION HELD FOR MRS. WILCOX

Mrs. S. B. Lewis Entertained Over 200 Guests From Two Till Six This Afternoon.

Mrs. S. B. Lewis held a reception this afternoon in honor of Mrs. J. L. Wilcox, recently returned from her bridal trip. Ferns, smilax, pink and red carnations were used in the decorations with a lavish hand and with most happy effect.

In the dining room decorations of smilax depended from the chandelier to the corners of the table, held in place with knots of white satin ribbon. A great vase of red carnations and ferns stood in the center of one table which was covered with a magnificent piece of Mexican drawn work. The whole house was filled with the fragrance of this lovely winter flower. Invitations to the number of 260 had been sent out and the guests came in relays from the hours of two to six.

The snow storm ceased in time to allow the walks to be cleaned off and a good many over two hundred were able to attend.

Dainty refreshments formed one of the many features of an unusually delightful occasion.

EXPLOITS OF A RUNAWAY TEAM

A farmer living on Jerome Schimmeall's farm near Shopiere, when going home yesterday afternoon, driving a pair of horses attached to a lumber wagon, with a double box on it, had to pass the street cars going down Main street.

The horses were afraid of the cars and started to run. One of his lines that had been broken for some time and had been tied together, came apart when he tried to stop the horses leaving him with only one line. The horses ran down Main to Racine street and up Racine to Bluff. Here they turned south and ran up the hill to Dr. Thorne's residence.

The house is elevated above the road and has a high terrace around it. The horses turned off from the road, dashed up onto the terrace and made the circuit of the house and back onto Bluff street again, tearing off a large quantity of shingles from the sides of the house in their flight and breaking down a small tree. They ran back down Bluff street to Racine, where they ran into the ditch and were stopped.

The farmer had on a load of soft coal and a barrel of salt. He and most of the load were dumped out when the team first turned off from Racine street onto Bluff. He had a number of severe cuts and scratches where he was dragged over the frozen ground and the wagon had a broken axle. This was about all the damage to the rig as the horses were not injured. Dr. Thorne thinks that it will cost about fifteen dollars to repair his house, where the wagon raked along on the sides of it.

LATE QUEEN WAS VERY RICH

The Contents of Victoria's Will Examined.

IT WILL NEVER BE PUBLISHED

Estimates Made by the Best Informed Persons Fix the Fortune at $125,000,000.—The Princess Beatrice, It Is Believed, Will Get Largest Share.

Cowes, Jan. 26.—Queen Victoria's will was opened and examined by the duly constituted authorities. Nothing will ever be made public officially as to the provisions of the instrument or the amount of her private fortune. It is generally supposed that this preliminary inspection was made in order to follow exactly her majesty's directions in regard to her funeral.

It is known that the queen made a will early in her reign, which was repeatedly altered and added to as children and grandchildren were born, and as her estate rapidly advanced in value. This proceeded until 1896, when her majesty decided to have an entirely new document drawn, and with great personal care this was accomplished.

Those in a position to make any sort of a guess as to the provisions of the queen's will declare that the Princess Beatrice, widow of Prince Henry of Battenberg, will be the principal beneficiary. She is the governor of the Isle of Wight and will probably inherit Osborne house and the whole estate surrounding it. Then the duke of Cornwall and his sons, who have been great favorites with Victoria, will receive a large portion of the fortune. The duke will probably become the owner of Balmoral and the Scottish property.

The grandchildren who are expected to receive the largest bequests are the two children of Victoria's youngest son, the former duke of Albany.

The queen's second daughter, Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, is not rich, and it is expected that she and her four children will be liberally provided for.

Edward VII., who will be amply provided for by the country, and the duke of York, who comes into the duchy of Cornwall and will be the prince of Wales, will probably not be sharers in the late queen's private fortune.

Estimates made by the best informed persons in the financial field fix the value of Queen Victoria's private estate at something like $125,000,000.

King Replies to President.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Following is the text of the reply which the president received from King Edward VII. in answer to his message of condolence on the death of the queen:

"Osborne, Jan. 24.—The President, White House, Washington, D. C.—Am most grateful to you for your kind sympathy in the irreparable loss which the nation and I have sustained. I felt convinced that it would be shared by you and the American people.

"EDWARD VII."

SUBSIDY URGED BY DEPEW.

The Senator Pleads for the Merchant Marine.

GROWTH OF OUR EXPORTS.

Nation's Interest Declared in Great Port Should the Great Powers of Europe Become Involved in a War—Andersen Shipping Bill.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 26.—Senator Depew of New York delivered in the senate a characteristically forceful and eloquent address in support of the shipping bill. The address was in the nature of an appeal for the upbuilding of the American merchant marine by the granting of subsidies as provided for in the pending measure. The peroration in which the New Yorker urged that the American flag be restored to the mastsheads of the freight-carrying ships of the United States was a brilliant piece of oratory and elicited cordial applause from senators on the floor and the crowds in the galleries.

Recounts the Country's Growth.

Senator Depew began with a survey of the country's first century of development, pointing out the immense material progress that had been made in agriculture and manufactures, how the exports had grown to $1,500,000,000 annually in excess of the imports, and how the internal lines of communication had been developed into the most comprehensive in the world. But he insisted that the development of the country had been one-sided. While prepared to feed and clothe half of the world outside the United States, the nation had developed its transportation system only to its own coast line, and had allowed the merchant marine to remain undeveloped so that there was actually a greater tonnage of American vessels built in this country for the foreign trade in 1897 than in 1900. Said Mr. Depew: The farm, the factory, and the mine have filled the warehouses and the docks of our Atlantic and Pacific coasts with their contributions to natural wealth, employment, and the happiness of our people, and left their transportation to Europe, to Asia, to Africa, to South America, and to Australia, to the greed of foreign shipowners, to the protection of foreign flags, and to the hazards of foreign war. A general collision, which often is predicted in the European newspapers, among the great powers of Europe in the mad haste of their navies and armies to outstrip each other in the acquisition of spheres of influence in Asia and Africa would act upon the United States, who might be simply a spectator of the conflict, as an embargo upon our coast. We would be shut up within ourselves as absolutely as if the navies of the world were blockading our ports.

Looking to remedy for the present stagnation in the American merchant marine, Mr. Depew said the cry of "free ships" had long ago been discounted. It was not to be considered as a remedy, for it left out of the question the development of an American shipbuilding industry.

FOR TWO NEW BATTLESHIPS.

The House Without Formally Adopts Naval Appropriation Bill.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Without the formality of a roll call the house adopted the naval appropriation bill, which provides for an increase in the naval establishment of two unshelved seagoing battleships, carrying the heaviest and most powerful ordnance of their class, of 14,000 tons displacement, with the highest practical speed and the greatest radius of action, to cost $3,850,000 each, exclusive of armor and armament; and two armored cruisers, carrying the heaviest and most powerful ordnance for vessels of their class, with a displacement of 14,000 tons each, to have the highest practical speed and greatest radius of action, and to cost, exclusive of armor and armament, not exceeding $4,000,000 each. It is not likely the senate will increase the number of battleships, as the shipyards of the country are now taxed to their utmost capacity with work.

Fortification Bill Reported.

In the fortifications bill reported to the house is an important provision concealed in simple phraseology. If the bill be enacted into law one of its effects will be to give the Board of Ordnance and Fortifications a great deal of power, restoring to it the functions which it enjoyed under the law of 1888.

Tennessee to Quit Cigars.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 26.—The anti-cigarette bill which was passed by the senate a few days ago passed the house by a vote of 84 to 7. The measure prohibits the sale or importation of cigar or cigaret papers, and is identical with the law enacted four years ago. This law was held by the state supreme court and the supreme court of the United States to be constitutional, but on account of an irregularity in the journal it recently was declared void by a state judge.

No Objection to Missions.

Peking, Jan. 26.—The foreign ministers have sent a note to the Chinese plenipotentiaries on the lines previously stated. Upon receipt of the dispatch announcing the death of Queen Victoria, the meeting of ministers then in session immediately adjourned. Prince Ching yesterday assured a committee of missionaries that there was no intention or desire on the part of the Chinese government to place restrictions upon the missions and that the government itself never had in the past any objections to the missionaries or to their methods. The missionaries are greatly pleased with Prince Ching's frankly expressed assurance.

Shriners Going to Honolulu.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 26.—Preparations are being made by the members of Islam Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, for the entertainment of a party of about 300 eastern Shriners who will pass through this city early in March on the way to Honolulu. The pilgrimage will be under the auspices of the illustrious imperial potentate of North America, Lou E. Winsor, Saladin Temple of Grand Rapids, Mich., of which Mr. Winsor is a member, will have charge of the pilgrimage. Representatives from nearly every shrine in North America will make up the party.

Attempt to Kill Wealthy Farmer.

Alton, Ill., Jan. 26.—The "invincible thieves," who warned four wealthy farmers of this vicinity to pay over a large sum of money or suffer the consequences, made an attempt to assassinate George Shillinger, one of the men who refused to submit to blackmail. An unknown miscreant fired through the window point blank at Shillinger, but his aim was bad. The bullet from a heavy caliber revolver crashed through the window and buried itself in the arm of Shillinger's hired man.

Missing Miner Found Injane.

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 26.—John Zylandus, a young coal miner, who disappeared last Saturday after working for a week in the Green Ridge slope, this city, was found today, crouched among a lot of "gob" piled in one of the headings, chattering and acting like a madman. The man was very much exhausted from his terrible experience and could give no intelligent account of how he became lost in the mine.

Fleeces a Cattleman.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—Michael Delaney, a ranch owner of Butte, Mont., was victimized out of a certified check for $4,500 here by a man whose acquaintance he formed a week ago in New York, and he reported the matter to Chief of Detectives Collieran. Detectives are now endeavoring to find some trace of his "friend," who gave the name of R. J. Hayes, and his occupation as a Chicago mining broker.

Derail Kitchener's Train.

Pretoria, Jan. 26.—Yesterday a train with Lord Kitchener and a body of troops proceeded toward Middleburg, an armored pilot engine preceding. It was derailed by dynamite near Balmoral. The Boers, who were in force, opened fire and the British replied. Ultimately the Boers were driven off. The British sustained no casualties.

Gives $200,000 to Oberlin.

Oberlin, O., Jan. 26.—A gift of $200,000 from John D. Rockefeller to the endowment fund of Oberlin college was announced in chapel here. The gift, which comes through J. G. W. Cowles of Cleveland, a trustee of the college, was made with the proviso that $300,000 is to be raised by the college by the 1st of January, 1902.

"I take pleasure in writing you a few lines thanking you for your advice. I did just as you told me in taking your medicine, and owe my life to you. You are like a mother to your sex. I was awful sick, was all run down, and felt sick all over. I looked like a person brought out of the grave. My face was as white as the driven snow. I was always tired after doing a little work, and would have to sit down. I had terrible pains and headaches, and my appetite was not good; also, troubled with shortness of breath. I could not go up one flight of stairs without being tired and having to stop to get my breath. I was feeling just as miserable as could be. I took two bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and cannot express my thanks to you for what your medicine has done for me."—Miss M. S. FARRELL, 35 Devon St., Grove Hall, Boston, Mass.

Consult Mrs. Pinkham

No Other Person Has So Wide An Experience with Woman's Ills, Nor Such a Record of Success.—"A Woman Best Understands a Woman's Ills."—Her Advice Led Miss Farrell to Health.

Examination by a male physician is a hard trial to a delicately organized woman. She dreads the humiliation of it all.

She therefore puts it off as long as she dare, and is only driven to it by fear of cancer, polypus, or some dreadful sickness.

Most frequently such a woman leaves a physician's office, where she has undergone a critical examination, more or less discouraged.

This condition of mind destroys the effect of advice, and she grows worse rather than better.

In consulting Mrs. Pinkham, in person or by letter, no hesitation need be felt. The story is told to a woman, and is entirely confidential—to a woman who has listened to thousands of similar stories—and who is so competent to advise women because of vast experience, and because she is a woman. Her advice is absolutely free to all sick women, and her address is Lynn, Mass.

Read Miss Farrell's account of how she was sick, and was led to health by Mrs. Pinkham. She is only one of thousands whom Mrs. Pinkham has cured this year.

GOLD IN ABUNDANCE.

AN INVENTION THAT PROMISES TO DOUBLE THE OUTPUT.

Difficult Problem of Separating Magnetite From Gold Solved—Simple, of Small Size and Inexpensive—May Be Operated by Hand or Motor.

A machine that bids fair to double the gold output of the world, revolutionizing methods of separating gold from crushed quartz, and particularly from river, beach and placer sands, has recently been constructed in Washington, and such confidence is entertained in its practical value that hundreds of thousands of dollars have already been invested in it, says the New York Herald.

For instance, in one single mine, where the output has hitherto not quite paid expenses, the profits will be several million dollars annually. Mine owners out in that part of the country are wild about it, and a belief is entertained that it will convert at least 500 nonpaying western properties of the kind into richly profitable deposits. The invention has been newly patented by Professor Elmer Gates, and its whole secret lies in removing from the gold bearing sand the magnetic iron, known as "magnetite," which such stuff always contains, as a preliminary to separating the gold. Un-

HYDROMAGNETIC SEPARATOR.
Under ordinary circumstances the sand, poured, with water, through a long trough called a "sluice box," is separated by gravity from the gold, the latter sinking to the bottom of the trough by reason of its greater weight and then being caught in crosswise slots, from which it is afterward removed. The chief difficulty in the process is due to the magnetite, which, being nearly as heavy as the gold, collects in the slots, or riffles, and chokes them up.

If the magnetite were absent, a much larger percentage of the gold contained in the sand could be got out of it; hence for many years the problem of getting rid of this objectionable substance has exercised the minds of inventors. Various machines have been devised for the purpose, but none of them has taken out all the magnetite, and not one of them has been able to handle wet sand. It costs too much money to dry sand, and this has been the financial difficulty. The obstacle is overcome, however, by the new machine, which not only removes every particle of the magnetite from the sand, but works wet sand under water. It handles moist or soaking wet sand as easily as dry.

Perhaps the most striking points about the machine at first glance are its extreme simplicity and its small size relatively to the work it accomplishes. It may be stood conveniently on a small table and easily operated by hand with a crank. Ordinarily, however, an electric motor furnishes the trifling power required. The apparatus consists of a copper drum about as big as a good sized toy drum, inside of which is a powerful electromagnet. The core of the magnet consists of a bunch of iron plates with fluted edges on the pole face of one end, likewise within the drum, but which approach their fluted edges close to the inside of the copper periphery of the latter.

What is seen from the outside is simply the drum which conceals the magnet and corrugated pole face plates and a sort of hopper above into which the sand is poured. Small as the machine is, it is capable of handling in this way 110 tons of sand in a day, sifting out every particle of magnetite from that quantity of raw material.

As the sand is poured into the hopper it falls through it and against the side of the revolving drum. The drum, thanks to the magnet inside of it, draws every particle of the magnet iron out of the sand and holds it tightly against the outside of the revolving copper drum, while the sand—that is to say, the siliceous particles and dirt—drops straight down into a receptacle beneath the table. The particles of iron while magnetically held against the drum are moved downward by it over the wavy lines of force of fluted magnet face and vigorously shaken to and fro so as to detach all foreign matter. It picks the attracted sand into thousands of pieces and shakes out the nonmagnetic sand. This is one of the prime features of the machine.

It will be understood that the siliceous sand is not attracted by the magnet, and on that account falls vertically, whereas the particles of iron, which look like iron filings, stick fast to the drum in rapidly oscillating bunches until they drop off by their own weight into another receptacle. As a result, all the iron (magnetite) is in one box and the sand and other nonmagnetic stuff, among which is the gold, in another box.

Explorer's Death Is a Loss.

The death of the Hon. David Carnegie, in West Africa, from a wound of a poisoned arrow, is a distinct loss to science. Although only 39, this young gentleman was already known as a distinguished explorer. He conducted explorations into Central Australia in 1895-99, and expected to be able to make in the course of the next few years some valuable discoveries in West Africa, where he was assistant resident commissioner.
